ADMITTS PART IN SPENCER ROBBERY

One of Six Men Held For Bank Loot-
ing Confesses and Implicates
Others Under Arrest

REMOVED TO SPENCER TODAY

Remaining Two of Eight Suspects
Arrested Thursday Are Held At
Vincennes

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—A full confession admitting his part in the Spencer bank robbery and implicating other men already under arrest, has been obtained from one of the six prisoners who were taken from Vincennes to Spencer for arraignment today, according to a statement made by Harry Webster, superintendent of the Protective Division of the Indiana Bankers' association.

Webster withheld the name of the man who was said to have confessed.

Spencer, Ind., Dec. 7.—Six men arrested at Bicknell yesterday on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of the local banks on November 6, were brought here from Vincennes today and placed in the Owen county jail.

They were to be arraigned this afternoon before Squire Claude Hoskins, on a charge of burglary and will probably be bound over to the circuit court on the same charge.

It was indicated they would be released under $10,000 bond each.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 7.—Six of the eight men arrested in Bicknell yesterday on a charge of being members of the bandit gang which robbed the two banks at Spencer a month ago were removed to Spencer today after an all-night questioning in the Knox county jail.

Prosecutor Young, of Knox county, aided by representatives of the Indiana Bankers' Association and the prosecuting attorney of Owen county, started quizzing the men yesterday afternoon immediately after they were put in jail here.

The quizzing was continued without interruption until four o'clock this morning, when it was decided to take six of the suspects to Spencer.

Young admitted he had not yet obtained a written confession from any of the men under arrest, but said valuable information to strengthen the case against the suspects had been obtained.

Owen county officials were at first inclined to believe the eight men had been arrested without enough evidence to make a case that would stick. When they were permitted to question the prisoners they asked for their immediate removal to Spencer.

The men taken to Spencer were Mearl Loucks, former assistant pro-

To Aid in Campaign

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The DePauw Alumni association was organized in Rushville Thursday night, when 31 former students of that college assembled at the Social club for an alumni banquet, and to hear an address delivered by H. B. Longden, vice president of DePauw.

Miles S. Cox was elected president of the county association, and Mrs. J. H. Schell, secretary. Mr. Gresham, a campaign organizer, was present and assisted in the preliminary work of perfecting the association.

A banquet was served and several talks were made by those attending. A committee in charge of the DePauw alumni campaign for raising money, was appointed, and work is already under way in the county by the committee.

The new association will hold regular meetings, and will develop into a permanent institution, growing in membership annually, and it is expected to prove a benefit to the college.

FIRE D J LITTLE

Department Answers Two Calls
Thursday at 5:10 And 10:40 P. M.

Two fires Thursday night did little damage in this city, and each blaze was quickly extinguished with chemicals. At 5:10 yesterday evening an automobile in a garage at the Henry Bundrant home, Maple and Eighth street, caught fire, and damage estimated at $5 was done to the car, and the flames put out before the garage was fired.

At 10:40 last night a traction car standing on the I. & C. tracks near the power house, caught fire in the roof, and threatened to do serious damage. Forty gallons of chemicals were used to subdue the flames, and the loss was said to be about $10. The pumper truck from the fire station answered each call.

LAST CHURCH NIGHT PROGRAM CONDUCTED

First Baptist Congregation Finds Series Profitable—Business Meeting Held

AN EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Thursday night brought to a close the series of church night programs which have been a special feature in the program of the First Baptist church, since the middle of October. The programs have been conducted for two hours each Thursday night. The first forty-five minutes were devoted to a social hour and supper. During the next period three study classes and a children's hour were conducted, while the closing period was a devotional service lasting half an hour.

The average attendance upon all three periods was sixty. The children's hour averaged an attendance of twenty, while the total enrollment in the three study classes was forty-nine.

At the monthly business meeting which followed the program last night, the church voted to put on a similar series of programs at a suitable time in the spring. Also in keeping with the emphasis on evangelism during the month of January in the church program, it was decided to hold a special series of evangelistic meetings for two weeks, beginning January 13. An effort will be made to get an evangelistic singer to assist the pastor.

SIX CRIMINAL CASES DOCKETED FOR TRIAL

Sent Here From Decatur County and
Involve Liquor Raids—Hasty Case
Continued

JURY CALLED FOR WEDNESDAY

Six criminal suits were docketed for trial in the Rush circuit court today, being received here on a change of venue from Decatur county. They were mentioned two weeks ago as having been granted the change from that county to this county. Four of the cases are against Thomas Robbins and two against Gregg Alyea, and each complaint is for an alleged violation of the liquor laws, following raids of last spring.

The defendant John Hasty, of near Carthage, today filed a motion for a continuance, as it was intimated yesterday, and the motion was granted. He was to be tried Monday on a charge of conspiracy. A main witness for the defendant is to be confined, and a physicians certificate accompanied the motion to delay the trial. No date has been set for the case.

Only a few court matters of minor importance were before the court today, and the usual Saturday routine will be followed with a few issues for a hearing.

The jury has been ordered for Wednesday, when the case of the state against Clevenger is to be heard.

ACCOUNT FOR SCHOOL FUNDS HELD IN TRUST

County Auditor Wilk in Semi-Annual Report Shows $125,105.01 Held
For Loans

INTEREST IS APPORTIONED

The semi-annual statement of common school and congressional school revenue, prepared at County Auditor Phil Wilk's office, shows a total of $125,105.01 now being held in trust by the county, which is loaned at six per cent on real estate. The fund is always in use because the auditor always has a waiting list of people who wish to borrow it and give a mortgage.

The common school revenue in possession of the county amounts to $101,224.69 and interest at six per cent for one year to Nov. 1, 1923, totaled $6,073.48. The auditor apportioned school fund interest, amounting to $2,328.49 in June among the schools, and now a total of $21,285.11 is ready for apportionment in the December semi-annual settlement. This includes taxes amounting to $18,956.62 received since the last semi-annual settlement, and interest on the common school fund since the last semi-annual report.

The auditor will distribute $716.41 from the congressional school fund revenue. This is half of the annual interest on $23,880.32, which is the sum of congressional school revenue held in trust by the county.

$2 Amounts

With only two sales over $5.00—and them amounting to only $6.00—the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign fund mounted over $100.00 in today's report, bringing total sales reported to date up to $323.65.

Thursday's record was little short of miraculous, in view of the fact that practically all of the sales were for one and two dollars. The first two days were devoted, in a large measure, to interviewing the large buyers, who invested $5.00, $10.00 and $25.00 in the campaign against disease in Rush county.

Today's report disclosed sales amounting to $131.65, with only a few $5.00 Health bonds in the lot. Buyers reported were as follows:

Last Showing "The Spoilers"

"The Spoilers" Jesse D. Hampton's screen production of Rex Beach's celebrated novel of the Klondike, which is being shown at the Castle for the last time today, is an immense picture. When Selig filmed this red-blooded romance of Alaska's gold rush a decade ago, it was regarded as the greatest photoplay of its day. But this 1923 version is assuredly one of the most spectacular and exciting pictures ever made.

The fight between Milton Sills, who is the Roy Glennister, and Noah Beery, impersonating the villainous Alex McNamara, is without a doubt the greatest screen fight ever filmed. It is stated that it required five days to film this fight scene. Both men are excellent fighters as well as excellent actors and they really fought. Barbara Bedford and Anna Q. Nilsson share honors in feminine leads. It would be hard to improve upon the casting of the acting of this production.

PRAYER FOR TODAY:—O
Lord God, I pray Thee, send me
good speed this day.—Genesis 24:
12.The Boy Scout Movement

When the Boy Scout movement was first inaugurated it was regarded as a joke—as the plaything of a great soldier who had seen his day. General Baden-Powell, its founder, was the object of much good natured chaffing, if not ridicule.

Today the Boy Scout organization, international in its scope, is recognized as one of the most enduring spokes in the wheel of progress, high citizenship and good government.

Men of the highest standing are lending it their active personal and financial support.

Mothers are enrolling their young sons in its membership.

Sisters, aunts and cousins are applauding the young fellows as they

step off briskly and uprightly under the tutelage of the scout masters.

The nation as a whole heartily approves a movement that it once laughed to scorn.

And the boys themselves are learning a higher degree of honor, integrity, self reliance and good citizenship.

Since the Boy Scout movement is all to the good and nothing to the bad, there is no reason why it should not flourish in Rushville or in any community in Rush county where enough interest has been shown to organize a troop.

The Scout movement has had hard sledding in Rushville, due to an apparent lack of interest on the part of parents who should be interested. But the leaders have never lost heart and the Scouts themselves have shown the spirit that never says die. Just now the organization is negotiating for a suitable meeting place and all well wishers and admirers of the organization and its local workers are hoping that there will be nothing to hamper its growth and proper development.

TRIBUTE TO HARDING

Washington, December 7—Here is President Coolidge's tribute to the late President Harding, voiced at the beginning of his message to Congress Thursday:

"Since the close of the last Congress, the nation has lost President Harding. The world knew his kindness and his humanity, his greatness and his character. He has left his mark upon history. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure. The surpassing tribute paid to his memory as he was borne across the continent to rest at last at home revealed the place he held in the hearts of the American people. But this is not the place for extended reference to the man or his work. In this presence, among those who knew and loved him, that is unnecessary. But we who were associated with him could not resume together the functions of our office without pausing for a moment, and in his memory reconsecrating our selves to the service of our country. He is gone. We remain. It is our duty under, the inspiration of his example, to take up the burdens which he was permitted to lay down, and to develop and support the wise principles of government which he represented."

OUR EGGS, BEFORE THERE
HATCHED

After Greensburg tonight, the Lions will have a spell at home, with the next five games here. The next victims will be Greenfield, Milroy, Knightstown, Columbus and Liberty.

While the Lions are playing down at Greensburg tonight, the Lionesses will play the girls team at Fairview.

The Blue Birds tumbled. The Sir Walter Raleigh bunch put across a win in the last few minutes of play, that resulted in a one point victory. Gosh, it's terrible how these teams like that one point stuff.

Markin' 'em up of Newcastle wants to know why Rushville doesn't bring back the whole tree from the court house tower of Greensburg, instead of just a limb. Say, Markin' 'em up, what do you expect of a Ford?

Spiceland plays at West Newton tonight, wherever that is.

Newcastle plays at Knightstown. We all know where that is, and especially Newcastle knows.

HERE'S GEORGIE AGAIN

It's an amusing thing for Hardwood Dribbles of the Indianapolis Star to select South Bend as one of the promising basketball teams of the state in Tuesday's Star. South Bend high school responded to the first call for basketball practice on Monday evening, so Hardwood Dribbles of the Star is suitably some prognosticator in sizing up the South Bend team the night after their first practice. —Casual Comment, Vincennes.

If Shelbyville gets defeated tonight at Columbus, they won't have any alibi. The game will be played, "with Hodges."

ANOTHER HORSE BOMBS UP
Homer has organized a team. Of the 9 pupils in high school, 5 of 'em are boys, and we guess when a player goes out on fouls, the coach will take a position on the team.

Markin' 'em up, says as follows: "We wonder if this town of Gings, in Rush county, will prove to be a second Sandusky. One can never tell."

"Thru the Hoop" appearing in the Shelbyville Democrat, lasted one day. Maybe he will come to, when Shelbyville and Columbus meets tonight.

Here's a Boquet, Walker

Newcastle thinks a whole lot of our center, and Markin' 'em up, says as follows:

Walker of Rushville sure lived up to his name last Friday night, and believe us he did a lot of walking. And such long strides too. He should go out for the long distance walking championship. His steps would make about two of those of an ordinary person.

Rush The Smelling Salts
Quick!

Hoosier Courtship, appearing in the Richmond Palladium, doesn't seem to think much of the columns that appear in papers throughout the state, and has burst out with his thoughts along that line, as follows: "Numerous scribes on sheets in basketball towns over the state carry their own little net columns. They carry on an exchange of comment among themselves instead of furnishing their readers something new and interesting on basketball. The public demands information on what is going on—it seldom cares how such and such an argument among scribes comes out."

In answer to the remarks, the Press Box of Kokomo seems to hit the nail on the head for most of the

scribes, and he replies as follows:

This comes from the least quoted basketball columnist in the state so we suppose he's getting a little bit hot under the collar. All right, Hoosier, here's one bird that clipped from you, and you can paste it in your scrap-book. Hoosier writes in such a stiff necked manner that we rarely do more than glance over his stuff. He's one Indiana columnist who takes himself seriously, but we would rather be our own merry little self, and fuss with the neighbors.

THE TROJANS ARE NOW
SORREL TOPS

"Basketball Sweepings", appearing in the Knightstown Banner, comes across with this little squib about the Trojans:

The Sorrel Tops of Newcastle, are coming this Friday night, and you can bet your last penny all off Knightstown and surrounding territory will be on hand to witness a game that will go down in history as the "Battle of the Giants." Both teams are pretty evenly matched for speed and endurance, and old man "Rivalry" will have a part in the session. It is the fervent hope and wish of every Knightstown enthusiast that the home team shakes the red dust from the hair of the comers. At 'em, ye galloping nimble-legged bipeds; Knightstown shall not bow to a lot of corn tassle heavers!

"VILLAINS"—SAYS GEORGE

Casual Comment of Vincennes is a busy guy these days, and he has figured out a basketball card of six teams, but he has made a big mistake piling Rushville, Connersville and Shelbyville on the same team. We couldn't work together. Take a pike at his teams:

Seeks in Field Goal Just Before Final Gun And Defeats Carthage, 24 to 23

NIP AND TUCK ALL THE WAY

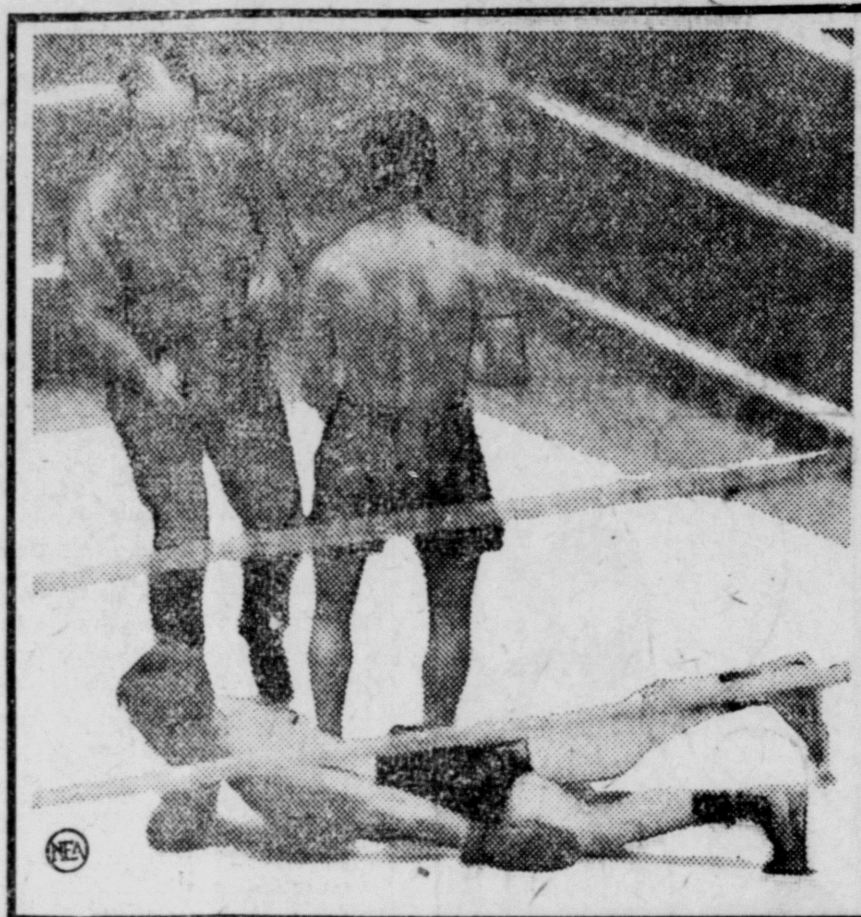

The Carthage high school basketball team, after leading throughout the game with Raleigh Thursday night on the Carthage floor, dropped an exciting contest in the last two seconds of play, when Raleigh caged a field goal, that won the game for them, 24 to 23.

The Carthage team had previously defeated Raleigh at Raleigh, by a ten-point margin, 45 to 35, and the game last night saw the tide turned.

The first half ended with Carthage in the lead, 13 to 10. The score was close all through the game, with only from 1 to 3 points difference. Carthage apparently had the game won, 23 to 22, when Raleigh took a shot exactly two seconds before the gun, and the ball dropped in the basket for the winning point. The shot was made from right center. Each team missed many shots during the game.

The curtain raiser was won by the Morristown seconds who defeated the Carthage seconds, 14 to 8. Arlington plays at Carthage next Thursday night, the game being advanced from Friday night.

Siki Mixes up Fight Game

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 7.—One of the rules of the New York Boxing Commission, prompted, no doubt, by a high purpose, provides that a boxer under the age of twenty-one cannot engage in bouts of more than six rounds.

Ostensibly, this rule was enacted to safeguard undeveloped youngsters from the permanent effects of serious injuries that might be sustained in the ring and applied to youths who have not reached their full development.

There are very few boxers who are not physically fit to stand the gaff at the age of eighteen to twenty, however, and the rule results in misstatements of age to get around the rule.

Jack McAuliffe, the veteran lightweight and the only unbeaten retired champion, takes issue with the commission on the theory that a boy is in danger when he is permitted to go fifteen rounds before he has reached his legal majority.

"All of the oldtimers fought their best fights when they were between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one. I was going through finish fights with bare knuckles and skin gloves when I was eighteen, and I believe that I am a good example that it didn't hurt me. Jack Dempsey fought his best fights when he was under twenty-one, and John L. Sullivan was in his best form in his youthful days," McAuliffe said.

With this rule in effect, Young Stribling, the eighteen-year-old Georgia light heavyweight, is not permitted to box more than six rounds in New York, although he has gone ten, twelve and fifteen rounds in other places.

Stribling, to the eye of a layman, certainly looks strong enough to go twenty or thirty rounds.

Being reasonable under its new administration, the commission agreed to suspend the rules in Stribling's case, if he would engage in several six rounders and submit to an examination by commission doctors after the bouts.

William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, knows as much about physical culture as any expert in the business but, like a great many he takes his business too seriously, and he applies general rules to every individual case.

In the attitude of the commission that an eighteen-year-old boxer should take his time and not be in too much of a hurry to get out and hustle, some inconsistencies are apparent.

To Stribling, to young Dave Shade, a year or so ago, and others, the commission said: "You have plenty of time to make yourself. You have three or four years in which to take it easy, and at the end of that time you will be stronger, better equipped technically and more able to mix with better boxers where the big money can be secured."

To Gene Tunney, Joe Lynch, Mickey Walker and Mike McTigue, the same commission said not two weeks later: "You champions had better get out and defend your titles. You can't tell when boxing is going to get a sock from congress or the state legislature. When you refuse to defend your titles you are passing up golden opportunities of today that may be gone tomorrow."

This question also brings up the point: "Is boxing more dangerous for an eighteen-year-old athlete than any other line of sport?"

Social Notes

Woman's Day will be observed at the Center Christian church Sunday evening and a suitable program has been arranged by the women, to which the public will be invited.

Mrs. Vern W. Norris entertained the members of the Pirate Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home in West Second street. Following the afternoon of cards, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William McMurray and family, Harry Hudson and family and John Wedding of Connersville were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roach, living in the Little Flatrock vicinity.

The Girls of the Little Flatrock Christian church will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Wilson with Miss Mary Heaton in charge of the program. All the members are urged to be present.

The ladies of the Little Flatrock Christian church will entertain next Tuesday evening in the church basement with a "Tea-key" social and the public will be invited. No one is supposed to come dressed up, or they will have to pay a fine.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will meet Tuesday afternoon, December 11, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Lytle, 117 East Sixth street. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Anna Dearing and Mrs. Clarence Cross. This is the last meeting until after the holidays and a full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chambers were delightful host and hostess Thursday evening when they entertained thirty guests at their home in East Seventh street, with a delicious turkey dinner. The appointments for the dining table were carried out beautifully in the color scheme of yellow and white, a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums adorning the center of the table. Following the serving of the dinner the guests assembled around the card tables and spent an enjoyable social evening playing Five Hundred.

Mrs. H. W. Hargett delightedly entertained the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Paul's M. E. church Thursday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. Mrs. C. A. Dugal very ably reviewed the lesson in the text book and Mrs. George Hogsett and Mrs. George Wilse sang a beautiful vocal duet. Miss Betty Innis also favored the guests with a piano selection. The regular Christmas offering was taken at this meeting. At the close of the program an informal social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Little Flatrock Christian church was held Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church with Mrs. Nellie Logan as the leader of the program. The program opened with prayer by Mrs. Norris followed by the Bible study by Mrs. Ione Mauzy. Mrs. Bessie Matney gave an interesting book review on Bert Wilson's new book, "The Christian and His Money," which the society has taken up for study during the closing Jubilee Year. At the close of the program the Edwards division served the guests with delicious refreshments.

Miss Ruth Louise Miller entertained Monday evening with a party at the home of Russell G. Moores, living south of this city. Games and dancing were the amusements throughout the evening and at the close of the party refreshments of cake and sandwiches were served to the following guests: the Misses Bertha Martin, Thelma O'Reilly, Estella Poston, Ruby and Nellie Morgan.

Mary Elizabeth Winship, Margaret O'Neil, Hazel Cameron, Helen Jones, Lolita Stiers and Thomas Fair, Carroll Miller, Clell Dearing, Hugh Martin, William and Robert Morgan, Raymond Gibson, Ralph Hill, John Sefton, Howard Woods and Fosted Hillgoss.

The program put on last evening at the M. E. church in Richland by the Parent-Teacher's Association was well rendered and highly complimented by the Count-Supt. Birney D. Farthing. Mr. Farthing's talk along educational lines was gladly heard by all present and as his trip through the East, has been a help to him, so it will be to this community.

As the Farmer's Federation of Richland township decided at their last meeting that it would be well to bring together their organization with the parent-teacher's association, and as both organizations are interested in the same things, it was decided at the meeting last evening to cooperate with the farmers and make it helpful in many ways by doing so. This will make the next meeting occur January 17 at Richland. Preparations for Christmas are being made by the parent-teacher's association for the children of the township and further notice of it will be given.

Snug fur collars and cuffs make the winter coats for small girls not only pretty but warm. Smooth soft broadcloth and velvet are the materials for good coats, but for school and play wear thick wooly plaids are the proper thing. FEW PEOPLE KNOW PRECIOUS STONES ARE FOUND IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—Few people know that precious stones are found in Indiana.

It is true they are not abundant—not enough to cause any wild rush to localities where they are occasionally washed out—but even diamonds are included in the state's valuable mineral resources, according to a report Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist, has made to Richard Lieber, director of the state conservation department.

Dr. Logan has identified crystals of quartz, rutile, topaz, garnet, tourmaline (brown and black), feldspar, amethyst and diamond found in Indiana, and he has recognized agate, opal, jasper and chalcedony in pebbles picked up along the creek bottoms in the state.

In the "Handbook of Indiana Geology" a recent publication of the state department, Dr. Logan says the greatest variety of rocks and minerals which are classified as precious stones, are obtained from the glacial drifts. They were transported to Indiana by glaciers from the crystalline rocks lying beyond our national boundary. Streams that pass through the glacial drifts wash out portions of their banks during seasons of high water, and deposit sand and gravel from their burial places where they have been deposited for many centuries. They are usually found as single crystals or fragments of crystals in these loose deposits, but occasionally they are imbedded in fragments of crystalline rocks.

According to Mr. Lieber records show that more than a score of diamonds have been found along streams in Morgan and Brown counties. The largest one reported weighed nearly five carats, but the majority were under two carats. Most of them were picked up by persons washing the streams sands and gravel for gold. In Brown county, diamonds and other stones have been found in Indian, Goss, Lick and Salt creeks, and in Morgan county on Gold, Little Indian, Sycamore and Possum creeks. Very frequently quartz crystals have been mistaken for diamonds and occasionally a zircon, which next to the diamond is the most brilliant

STEEL PRICES AT LOW LEVEL TODAY

Little Change in Last Few Months Reflects Good Business in Sight For Industry

BIG ORDERS ARE COMING IN

Big Concerns Are Placing Early Orders For Pig Iron, Expecting 1924 as Banner Year

By BRUCE SHORT

President Engineer Sales Corporation (Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—Prices of basic commodities have reached a level from which there has been little change in the last several weeks and which will probably remain stationary for some months to come. In other words, the lowest price level that may be expected for some time is now prevailing.

This condition reflected in the steel market has led big consumers to place their orders for pig iron. The American Radiator Company, one of the largest industrial users of pig iron, has placed its order for 50,000 tons for use during the first quarter of 1924. Other large concerns, which do not buy on a falling market, are obtaining quotations for their quarter and semi-annual orders with the probability that they will place the orders before the end of the year.

These transactions on the steel market are indicative of what is transpiring in other lines of business. Stocks in nearly all enterprises are depleted and must be replenished soon. There is little if any reserve stocks in any part of the U. S. and because of this fact observers of the steel market predict with confidence that prices will not go lower in the near future.

The necessity of placing orders and increasing the depleted stocks points a finger of prosperity toward the coming year. Merchants in all enterprises are still cautious. They do not intend to over-buy but now that the outlook for 1924 is assuming definite form, they are abandoning an attitude of hesitancy and coming into the open market with a feeling of confidence.

Railroad companies, constituting as a group one of the largest customers of the steel mills, are placing their orders for steel rails but on the other hand they are delaying their car orders until next month. This delay in ordering cars is due to a desire for lower prices, but indications are that the price of the cars will not go any lower.

Stone, has been found. Both quartz and zircon are transparent crystals and are hard enough to cut glass, which leads some people to the conclusion that they are diamonds.

Pearls are sometimes found in fresh-water clams or mussels in Indiana streams. While a few such pearls are reported to have sold for more than $100, most of those found in the state are of little economic importance. The mussels are useful, however, in the manufacture of pearl buttons, and clam fishing is carried on in the Ohio, White, Wabash and other rivers. While button factories are located at Shoals and Petersburg.

Only Three Men Who Have Served More Than A Score Of Years Are Due To Appear In Picture

Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Leader of Massachusetts, is Oldest Inhabitant of Senate

By FRASER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Leader of Massachusetts, is Oldest Inhabitant of Senate

Washington, December 7—For evidence that "the old order changeth," witness the Senate. A generation has wrought a complete change in that august body.

Only three men who have served more than a score of years are due to appear in the new senate picture. The other ninety-three senators would be regarded as newcomers under the old rule when constituencies let senators die in harness.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader of Massachusetts, is the oldest inhabitant of the Senate in point of service, with 30 years behind him. Senator Warren of Wyoming really got to the Senate first. He did a two-year hitch before his present term began in 1895. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic

OIL FIELDS HOLDING UP

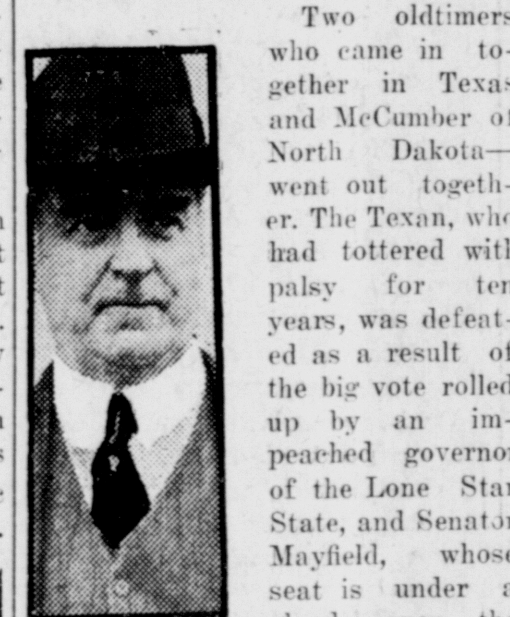

Only Slight Decrease in State's Production, Report Says

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7—Indiana's oil fields have shown only a slight decrease in production this year, Theodore M. Kingsbury, state natural gas inspector, said today. "Last year, Indiana produced 1,087,000 barrels of crude oil," Kingsbury said. "So far this year, the monthly productions have about held their own."

About two-thirds of the oil comes from the southwestern part of the state, centering in Pike and Gibson counties, he said. The largest new well in the last two years was drilled on the farm of Tom O'Brien, in Randolph county. Initial production of 300 barrels a day was recorded at this well. Several others in this section made about 150 barrels a day.

nestor, did not come to the Senate until six years later.

With so many new faces, the Senate will present a vastly different picture. In the place of Knute Nelson, the old Viking, with his snowy chin whiskers, will be another product of Scandinavia—Magnus Johnson, the real dirt farmer who actually milks his own cows.

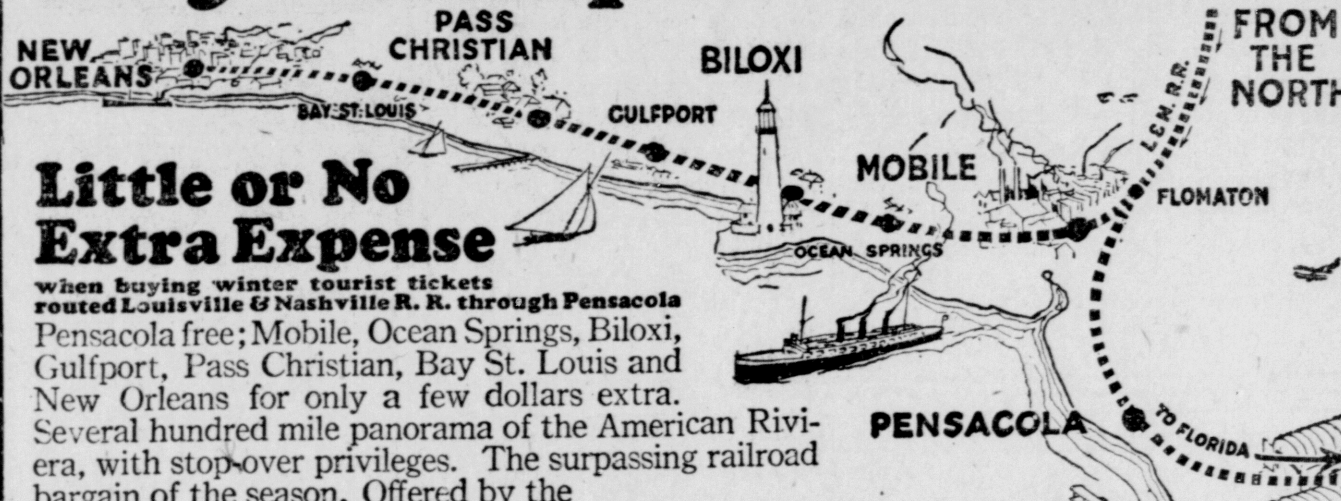

Two oldtimers who came in together in Texas and McCumber of North Dakota—went out together. The Texan, who had tottered with palsy for ten years, was defeated as a result of the big vote rolled up by an impeached governor of the Lone Star State, and Senator Mayfield, whose seat is under a cloud, won the Senator Royal race. McCumber, Copeland of New York, whose widely separated syllables style of oratory was long a Senate attraction, was defeated by Senator Frazier, who was recalled as Non-Partisan League governor of his state.

Death has taken Senator Dillingham of Vermont, whose youthful figure belied his 80 years. The nestor of the Senate, Senator Page, also of the Green Mountain State, a few months the senior of Dillingham, has

There are so many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran—the one great aid to humanity!

You will enjoy eating Kellogg's Bran because its nut-like flavor appeals to the taste. And, think what each mouthful is doing to drive constipation out of your system and to re-establish health! That's because it is ALL BRAN. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically made to relieve suffering humanity—IT WILL DO THAT AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Physicians recommend the regular use of Kellogg's Bran for mild or chronic cases and as a preventive. Bran, eaten each day and in proper quantity, sweeps, cleanses and purifies the alimentary tract.

Get away from pills and cathartics—Kellogg's Bran will give you permanent relief from constipation.

Do not confuse Kellogg's Bran with common bran. Kellogg's is cooked, crumbled and ready to serve. It can be used in the most delightful baking products without in any way reducing its regulatory value. Try raisin bread or muffins or griddle-cakes made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

Kellogg's Bran is nationally eaten for health's sake as a cereal—in winter time with hot milk. Others prefer it sprinkled over hot or cold cereals. Another way is to mix it with hot cereals just before serving. It can also be cooked with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran for each person; in chronic cases as much with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is sold by all grocers and is supplied in individual packages at first-class hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant!

ADmits PART IN SPENCER ROBBERY

One of Six Men Held For Bank Loot-
ing Confesses and Implicates
Others Under Arrest

REMOVED TO SPENCER TODAY

Remaining Two of Eight Suspects
Arrested Thursday Are Held At
Vincennes

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—A full confession admitting his part in the Spencer bank robbery and implicating other men already under arrest, has been obtained from one of the six prisoners who were taken from Vincennes to Spencer for arraignment today, according to a statement made by Harry Webster, superintendent of the Protective Division of the Indiana Bankers' association.

Webster withheld the name of the man who was said to have confessed.

Spencer, Ind., Dec. 7.—Six men arrested at Bicknell yesterday on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of the local banks on November 6, were brought here from Vincennes today and placed in the Owen county jail.

They were to be arraigned this afternoon before Squire Claude Hoskins, on a charge of burglary and will probably be bound over to the circuit court on the same charge.

It was indicated they would be released under $10,000 bond each.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 7.—Six of the eight men arrested in Bicknell yesterday on a charge of being members of the bandit gang which robbed the two banks at Spencer a month ago were removed to Spencer today after an all-night questioning in the Knox county jail.

Prosecutor Young, of Knox county, aided by representatives of the Indiana Bankers' Association and the prosecuting attorney of Owen county, started quizzing the men yesterday afternoon immediately after they were put in jail here.

The quizzing was continued without interruption until four o'clock this morning, when it was decided to take six of the suspects to Spencer.

Young admitted he had not yet obtained a written confession from any of the men under arrest, but said valuable information to strengthen the case against the suspects had been obtained.

Owen county officials were at first inclined to believe the eight men had been arrested without enough evidence to make a case that would stick. When they were permitted to question the prisoners they asked for their immediate removal to Spencer.

The men taken to Spencer were Menard Loucks, former assistant pro-

Officers Are Elected at Banquet
Thursday Night and Plans Made
To Aid in Campaign

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The DePauw Alumni association was organized in Rushville Thursday night, when 31 former students of that college assembled at the Social club for an alumni banquet, and to hear an address delivered by H. B. Longden, vice president of DePauw.

Miles S. Cox was elected president of the county association, and Mrs. J. H. Schell, secretary. Mr. Gresham, a campaign organizer, was present and assisted in the preliminary work of perfecting the association.

A banquet was served and several talks were made by those attending. A committee in charge of the DePauw alumni campaign for raising money, was appointed, and work is already under way in the county by the committee.

The new association will hold regular meetings, and will develop into a permanent institution, growing in membership annually, and it is expected to prove a benefit to the college.

FIRE DO LITTLE

Department Answers Two Calls
Thursday at 5:10 And 10:40 P. M.

Two fires Thursday night did little damage in this city, and each blaze was quickly extinguished with chemicals. At 5:10 yesterday evening an automobile in a garage at the Henry Bundrant home, Maple and Eighth street, caught fire, and damage estimated at $5 was done to the car, and the flames put out before the garage was fired.

At 10:40 last night a traction car standing on the I. & C. tracks near the power house, caught fire in the roof, and threatened to do serious damage. Forty gallons of chemicals were used to subdue the flames, and the loss was said to be about $10. The pumper truck from the fire station answered each call.

LAST CHURCH NIGHT PROGRAM CONDUCTED

First Baptist Congregation Finds
Series Profitable—Business Meeting Held

AN EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Thursday night brought to a close the series of church night programs which have been a special feature in the program of the First Baptist church, since the middle of October. The programs have been conducted for two hours each Thursday night. The first forty-five minutes were devoted to a social hour and supper. During the next period three study classes and a children's hour were conducted, while the closing period was a devotional service lasting half an hour.

The average attendance upon all three periods was sixty. The children's hour averaged an attendance of twenty, while the total enrollment in the three study classes was forty-nine.

At the monthly business meeting which followed the program last night, the church voted to put on a similar series of programs at a suitable time in the spring. Also in keeping with the emphasis on evangelism during the month of January in the church program, it was decided to hold a special series of evangelistic meetings for two weeks, beginning January 13. An effort will be made to get an evangelistic singer to assist the pastor.

SIX CRIMINAL CASES DOCKETED FOR TRIAL

Sent Here From Decatur County and
Involve Liquor Raids—Hasty Case

JURY CALLED FOR WEDNESDAY

Six criminal suits were docketed for trial in the Rush circuit court today, being received here on a change of venue from Decatur county. They were mentioned two weeks ago as having been granted the change from that county to this county. Four of the cases are against Thomas Robins and two against Gregg Alyea, and each complaint is for an alleged violation of the liquor laws, following raids of last spring.

The defendant John Hasty, of near Carthage, today filed a motion for a continuance, as it was interrupted yesterday, and the motion was granted. He was to be tried Monday on a charge of conspiracy. A main witness for the defendant is to be confined, and a physicians certificate accompanied the motion to delay the trial. No date has been set for the case.

Only a few court matters of minor importance were before the court today, and the usual Saturday routine will be followed with a few issues for a hearing.

The jury has been ordered for Wednesday, when the case of the state against Clevenger is to be heard.

ACCOUNT FOR SCHOOL FUNDS HELD IN TRUST

County Auditor Willk in Semi-Annual Report Shows $125,105.01 Held
For Loans

INTEREST IS APPORTIONED

The semi-annual statement of common school and congressional school revenue, prepared at County Auditor Phil Wilk's office, shows a total of $125,105.01 now being held in trust by the county, which is loaned at six per cent on real estate. The fund is always in use because the auditor always has a waiting list of people who wish to borrow it and give a mortgage.

The common school revenue in possession of the county amounts to $101,224.69 and interest at six per cent for one year to Nov. 1, 1932, totaled $6,073.48. The auditor apportioned school fund interest, amounting to $2,328.49 in June among the schools, and now a total of $21,285.11 is ready for apportionment in the December semi-annual settlement. This includes taxes amounting to $18,956.62 received since the last semi-annual settlement, and interest on the common school fund since the last semi-annual report.

The auditor will distribute $716.41 from the congressional school fund revenue. This is half of the annual interest on $23,880.32, which is the sum of congressional school revenue held in trust by the county.

Most of Purchasers Buy in $1 and
$2 Amounts

With only two sales over $5.00—and them amounting to only $6.00—the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign fund mounted over $100.00 in today's report, bringing total sales reported to date up to $323.65.

Thursday's record was little short of miraculous, in view of the fact that practically all of the sales were for one and two dollars. The first two days were devoted, in a large measure, to interviewing the large buyers, who invested $5.00, $10.00 and $25.00 in the campaign against disease in Rush county.

Today's report disclosed sales amounting to $131.65, with only a few $5.00 Health bonds in the lot. Buyers reported were as follows:

Last Showing "The Spoilers"
"The Spoilers" Jesse D. Hampton's screen production of Rex Beach's celebrated novel of the Klondike, which is being shown at the Castle for the last time today, is an immense picture. When Selig filmed this red-blooded romance of Alaska's gold rush a decade ago, it was regarded as the greatest photoplay of its day. But this 1923 version is assuredly one of the most spectacular and exciting pictures ever made.

The fight between Milton Sills, who is the Roy Glennister, and Noah Beery, impersonating the villainous Alex McNamara, is without a doubt the greatest screen fight ever filmed. It is stated that it required five days to film this fight scene. Both men are excellent fighters as well as excellent actors and they really fought. Barbara Bedford and Anna Q. Nilsson share honors in feminine leads. It would be hard to improve upon the casting of the acting of this production.

A remarkable cast is seen in the picture with Milton Sills as the manly hero; Anna Q. Nilsson as Cherry Malotte, the loyal dance-hall queen; Barbara Bedford, a pretty brunette as Helen Chester, the innocent heroine; Noah Beery as McNamara, the crooked but courageous politician; Mitchell Lewis as Marshal Vorhees, afraid of no man that walked; Robert Edeson, as the rough-and-ready Joe Dextery, mine owner and ready to face death for his rights; Sam de Grasse as the cowardly Judge Stillman; Robert McKim as Struve, the crooked lawyer; Ford Sterling; Rockliffe Fellowes, Louise Fazenda, Gordon Russell, Wallace MacDonald and numerous other players well known for their ability to act Western roles.

PRAYER FOR TODAY:—O
Lord God, I pray Thee, send me
good speed this day.—Genesis 24:12.The Boy Scout Movement

When the Boy Scout movement was first inaugurated it was regarded as a joke—as the plaything of a great soldier who had seen his day. General Baden-Powell, its founder, was the object of much good natured chaffing, if not ridicule.

Today the Boy Scout organization, international in its scope, is recognized as one of the most enduring spokes in the wheel of progress, high citizenship and good government.

Men of the highest standing are lending it their active personal and financial support.

Mothers are enrolling their young sons in its membership.

Sisters, aunts and cousins are applauding the young fellows as they

step off briskly and uprightly under the tutelage of the scout masters.

The nation as a whole heartily approves a movement that it once laughed to scorn.

And the boys themselves are learning a higher degree of honor, integrity, self reliance and good citizenship.

Since the Boy Scout movement is all in the good and nothing in the bad, there is no reason why it should not flourish in Rushville or in any community in Rush county where enough interest has been shown to organize a troop.

The Scout movement has had hard sledding in Rushville, due to an apparent lack of interest on the part of parents who should be interested. But the leaders have never lost heart and the Scouts themselves have shown the spirit that never says die. Just now the organization is negotiating for a suitable meeting place and all well wishers and admirers of the organization and its local workers are hoping that there will be nothing to hamper its growth and proper development.

TRIBUTE TO HARDING

Washington, December 7.—Here is President Coolidge's tribute to the late President Harding, voiced at the beginning of his message to Congress Thursday:

"Since the close of the last Congress, the nation has lost President Harding. The world knew his kindness and his humanity, his greatness and his character. He has left his mark upon history. He has made justice more certain and peace more secure. The surpassing tribute paid to his memory as he was borne across the continent to rest at last at home revealed the place he held in the hearts of the American people. But this is not the place for extended reference to the man or his work. In this presence, among those who knew and loved him, that is unnecessary. But we who were associated with him could not resume together the functions of our office without pausing for a moment, and in his memory reconsecrating our selves to the service of our country. He is gone. We remain. It is our duty under the inspiration of his example, to take up the burdens which he was permitted to lay down, and to develop and support the wise principles of government which he represented."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Tuesday, December 8, 1908

The official board of the Main street Christian church held its last regular meeting of the year last evening in the church parlors. John A. Tittsworth, the retiring chairman of the board, presided as toastmaster and the following toasts were responded to by the various members: "Raising Money," O. E. Humes; "How to Cook," John B. Winship; "The Sunday School," Harry Clifford; "The Farmer and the Church," Will Brown; "Fellowship," W. A. Stockinger; "The Preacher and the Board," R. W. Abberley; "Goodbye," Lincoln Gullin.

Mrs. A. L. Gary entertained the Coterie Monday afternoon by a very interesting talk on the modern drama. She mentioned two of the chief tendencies of the high drama of today, towards socialistic doctrines. Mrs. Hargrove will have the Coterie with her on December 21.

Mrs. William Smith reached her seventy-fourth milestone Saturday and in honor of the event, her brother, Ben F. Ging of Irvington, and sister, Mrs. Delilah McMillin of this city, planned a pleasant surprise for her and it was carried out to the very letter. The invited guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Sarah Caldwell, North Morgan street, and promptly at eleven o'clock walked in on Aunt Kate at her home in West Third street.

Thursday Night

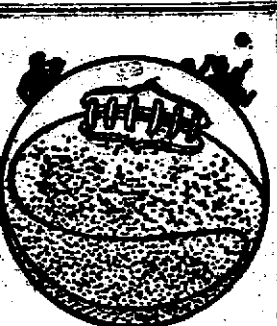

SECONDS ALSO WIN GAME

The Arlington Athletic club basketball team played its first game of the season last night at the Arlington gymnasium, defeating the Morristown Independents 30 to 13. The first half of the game ended 11 to 4 in favor of the A. C.'s.

Haley for Arlington was the leading point-getter, making five field goals. He was followed by Gardner who made three field goals. Hatchens, Arlington's new back guard, seldom ever permitted a short shot under the basket and Morristown was compelled to make long shots.

Next Thursday the Westland Independents will play at the Arlington gym, meeting the A. A. C.'s.

In the curtain raiser to the game last night, the second team of the Arlington high school played a team from the Christian church of this city, the local team winning by the score of 19 to 13.

HITTIN' 'EM —AND— MISSIN' 'EM

OUR EGGS, BEFORE THERE HATCHED

After Greensburg tonight, the Lions will have a spell at home, with the next five games here. The next victims will be Greenfield, Milroy, Knightstown, Columbus and Liberty.

While the Lions are playing down at Greensburg tonight, the Lionesses will play the girls team at Fairview.

The Blue Birds tumbled. The Sir Walter Raleigh bunch put across a win in the last few minutes of play, that resulted in a one point victory. Gosh, its terrible how these teams like that one point stuff.

Markin' 'em up of Newcastle wants to know why Rushville doesn't bring back the whole tree from the court house tower of Greensburg, instead of just a limb. Say, Markin' 'em up, what do you expect of a Ford?

Spiceland plays at West Newton tonight, wherever that is.

Newcastle plays at Knightstown. We all know where that is, and especially Newcastle knows.

HERE'S GEORGIE AGAIN

It's an amusing thing for Hardwood Dribbles of the Indianapolis Star to select South Bend as one of the promising basketball teams of the state in Tuesday's Star. South Bend high school responded to the first call for basketball practice on Monday evening, so Hardwood Dribbles of the Star is suitably some prognosticator in sizing up the South Bend team the night after their first practice. —Casual Comment, Vincennes.

If Shelbyville gets defeated tonight at Columbus, they won't have any alibi. The game will be played, "with Hodges."

ANOTHER HORSE BOBBES UP

Homer has organized a team. Of the 9 pupils in high school, 5 of 'em are boys, and we guess when a player goes out on fouls, the coach will take a position on the team.

Markin' 'em up, says as follows: "We wonder if this town of Gings, in Rush county, will prove to be a second Sandusky. One can never tell."

"Thru the Hoop" appearing in the Shelbyville Democrat, lasted one day. Maybe he will come to, when Shelbyville and Columbus meets tonight.

Here's a Boquet, Walker

Newcastle thinks a whole lot of our center, and Markin' 'em up, says as follows:

Walker of Rushville sure lived up to his name last Friday night, and believe us he did a lot of walking. And such long strides too. He should go out for the long distance walking championship. His steps would make about two of those of an ordinary person.

Rush The Smelling Salts Quick!

Hoosier Courtship, appearing in the Richmond Palladium, doesn't seem to think much of the columns that appear in papers throughout the state, and has burst out with his thoughts along that line, as follows: "Numerous scribes on sheets in basketball towns over the state carry their own little net columns. They carry on an exchange of comment among themselves instead of furnishing their readers something new and interesting on basketball. The public demands information on what is going on—it seldom cares how such and such an argument among scribes comes out."

In answer to the remarks, the Press Box of Kokomo seems to hit the nail on the head for most of the

scribes, and he replies as follows:

This comes from the least quoted basketball columnist in the state so we suppose he's getting a little bit hot under the collar. All right, Hoosier, here's one bird that clipped from you, and you can paste it in your scrap-book. Hoosier writes in such a stiff-necked manner that we rarely do more than glance over his stuff. He's one Indiana columnist who takes himself seriously, but we would rather be our own merry little self, and fuss with the neighbors.

THE TROJANS ARE NOW SORREL TOPS

"Basketball Sweepings", appearing in the Knightstown Banner, comes across with this little squib about the Trojans:

The Sorrel Tops of Newcastle, are coming this Friday night, and you can bet your last penny all of Knightstown and surrounding territory will be on hand to witness a game that will go down in history as the "Battle of the Giants." Both teams are pretty evenly matched for speed and endurance, and old man "Rivalry" will have a part in the session. It is the fervent hope and wish of every Knightstown enthusiast that the home team shakes the red dust from the hair of the comers. At 'em, ye galloping nimble-legged bipeds; Knightstown shall not bow to a lot of corn tassle heavers!

"VILLAINS"—SAYS GEORGE

Casual Comment of Vincennes is a busy guy these days, and he has figured out a basketball card of six teams, but he has made a big mistake naming Rushville, Connersville and Shelbyville on the same team. We couldn't work together. Take a pike at his teams:

RALEIGH WINS IN LAST TWO SECONDS

Socks in Field Goal Just Before Final Gun And Defeats Carthage, 24 to 23

NIP AND TUCK ALL THE WAY

The Carthage high school basketball team, after leading throughout the game with Raleigh Thursday night on the Carthage floor, dropped an exciting contest in the last two seconds of play, when Raleigh caged a field goal, that won the game for them, 24 to 23.

The Carthage team had previously defeated Raleigh at Raleigh, by a ten-point margin, 35 to 25, and the game last night saw the tide turned.

The first half ended with Carthage in the lead, 13 to 10. The score was close all through the game, with only from 1 to 3 points difference. Carthage apparently had the game won, 23 to 22, when Raleigh took a shot exactly two seconds before the gun, and the ball dropped in the basket for the winning point. The shot was made from right center. Each team missed many shots during the game.

The curtain raiser was won by the Morristown seconds who defeated the Carthage seconds, 14 to 8. Arlington plays at Carthage next Thursday night, the game being advanced from Friday night.

Siki Mixes up Fight Game

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 7.—One of the rules of the New York Boxing Commission, prompted, no doubt, by a high purpose, provides that a boxer under the age of twenty-one cannot engage in bouts of more than six rounds.

Ostensibly, this rule was enacted to safeguard undeveloped youngsters from the permanent effects of serious injuries that might be sustained in the ring and applied to youths who have not reached their full development.

There are very few boxers who are not physically fit to stand the gaff at the age of eighteen to twenty, however, and the rule results in misstatements of age to get around the rule.

Jack McAuliffe, the veteran lightweight and the only unbeaten retired champion, takes issue with the commission on the theory that a boy is in danger when he is permitted to go fifteen rounds, before he has reached his legal majority.

"All of the oldtimers fought their best fights when they were between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one. I was going through snish fights with bare knuckles and skin gloves when I was eighteen, and I believe that I am a good example that it didn't hurt me. Jack Dempsey fought his best fights when he was under twenty-one, and John L. Sullivan was in his best form in his youthful days," McAuliffe said.

With this rule in effect, Young Stribling, the eighteen-year-old Georgia light heavyweight, is not permitted to box more than six rounds in New York, although he has gone ten, twelve and fifteen rounds in other places.

Stribling, to the eye of a layman, certainly looks strong enough to go twenty or thirty rounds.

Being reasonable under its new administration, the commission agreed to suspend the rules in Stribling's case, if he would engage in several six rounds and submit to an examination by commission doctors after the bouts.

William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, knows as much about physical culture as any expert in the business but, like a great many he takes his business too seriously, and he applies general rules to every individual case.

In the attitude of the commission that an eighteen-year-old boxer should take his time and not be in too much of a hurry to get out and hustle, some inconsistencies are apparent.

To Stribling, to young Dave Shade, a year or so ago, and others, the commission said: "You have plenty of time to make yourself. You have three or four years in which to take it easy, and at the end of that time you will be stronger, better equipped technically and more able to mix with better boxers

Social Notes

Woman's Day will be observed at the Center Christian church Sunday evening and a suitable program has been arranged by the women, to which the public will be invited.

Mrs. Vern W. Norris entertained the members of the Pirate Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home in West Second street. Following the afternoon of cards, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William McMurray and family, Harry Hudson and family and John Wedding of Connersville were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roach, living in the Little Flatrock vicinity.

The Girls of the Little Flatrock Christian church will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Wilson with Miss Mary Heaton in charge of the program. All the members are urged to be present.

The ladies of the Little Flatrock Christian church will entertain next Tuesday evening in the church basement with a "Turkey" social and the public will be invited. No one is supposed to come dressed up, or they will have to pay a fine.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will meet Tuesday afternoon, December 11, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Lytle, 117 East Sixth street. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Anna Dearing and Mrs. Clarence Cross. This is the last meeting until after the holidays and a full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chambers were delightful host and hostess Thursday evening when they entertained thirty guests at their home in East Seventh street, with a delicious turkey dinner. The appointments for the dining table were carried out beautifully in the color scheme of yellow and white, a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums adorning the center of the table. Following the serving of the dinner the guests assembled around the card tables and spent an enjoyable social evening playing Five Hundred.

Mrs. H. W. Hargett delightfully entertained the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Paul's M. E. church Thursday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. Mrs. C. A. Dugal very ably reviewed the lesson in the text book and Mrs. George Hogsett and Mrs. George Wiltse sang a beautiful vocal duet. Miss Betty Inniss also favored the guests with a piano selection. The regular Christmas offering was taken at this meeting. At the close of the program an informal social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Little Flatrock Christian church was held Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church with Mrs. Nellie Logan as the leader of the program. The program opened with prayer by Mrs. Norris followed by the Bible study by Mrs. Ione Maury. Mrs. Bessie Maury gave an interesting book review on Bert Wilson's new book, "The Christian and His Money," which the society has taken up for study during the closing Jubilee Year. At the close of the program the Edwards division served the guests with delicious refreshments.

Miss Ruth Louise Miller entertained Monday evening with a party at the home of Russell G. Moores, living south of this city. Games and dancing were the amusements throughout the evening and at the close of the party refreshments of cake and sandwiches were served to the following guests: the Misses Bertha Martin, Thelma O'Reilly, Estella Poston, Ruby and Nellie Morgan.

Mary Elizabeth Winship, Margaret O'Neil, Hazel Cameron, Helen Jones, Lolita Stiers and Thomas Fair, Carroll Miller, Clell Dearing, Hugh Martin, William and Robert Morgan, Raymond Gibson, Ralph Hill, John Sefton, Howard Woods and Foster Hilligoss.

The program put on last evening at the M. E. church in Richland by the Parent-Teacher's Association was well rendered and highly complimented by the Count-Supt. Birney D. Farthing. Mr. Farthing's talk along educational lines was gladly heard by all present and as his trip through the East, has been a help to him, so it will be to this community.

As the Farmer's Federation of Richland township decided at their last meeting that it would be well to bring together their organization with the parent-teacher's association, and as both organizations are interested in the same things, it was decided at the meeting last evening to cooperate with the farmers and make it helpful in many ways by doing so. This will make the next meeting occur January 17 at Richland. Preparations for Christmas are being made by the parent-teacher's association for the children of the township and further notice of it will be given.

FEW PEOPLE KNOW PRECIOUS STONES ARE FOUND IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7—Few people know that precious stones are found in Indiana.

It is true they are not abundant—not enough to cause any wild rush to localities where they are occasionally washed out—but even diamonds are included in the state's valuable mineral resources, according to a report Dr. W. N. Logan, state geologist, has made to Richard Lieber, director of the state conservation department.

Dr. Logan has identified crystals of quartz, rutile, topaz, garnet, tourmaline (brown and black), feldspar, amethyst and diamond found in Indiana, and he has recognized agate, opal, jasper and chalcedony in pebbles picked up along the creek bottoms in the state.

In the "Handbook of Indiana Geology" a recent publication of the state department, Dr. Logan says the greatest variety of rocks and minerals which are classified as precious stones, are obtained from the glacial drifts. They were transported to Indiana by glaciers from the crystalline rocks lying beyond our national boundary. Streams that pass through the glacial drifts wash out portions of their banks during seasons of high water, and deposit sand and gravel from their burial places where they have been deposited for many centuries. They are usually found as single crystals or fragments of crystals in these loose deposits, but occasionally they are imbedded in fragments of crystalline rocks.

According to Mr. Lieber records show that more than a score of diamonds have been found along streams in Morgan and Brown counties. The largest one reported weighed nearly five carats, but the majority were under two carats. Most of them were picked up by persons washing the streams sands and gravel for gold. In Brown county, diamonds and other stones have been found in Indian, Goss, Lick and Salt creeks, and in Morgan county on Gold, Little Indian, Sycamore and Passum creeks. Very frequently quartz crystals have been mistaken for diamonds and occasionally a zircon, which next to the diamond is the most brilliant

Little Change in Last Few Months Reflects Good Business in Sight For Industry

BIG ORDERS ARE COMING IN

Big Concerns Are Placing Early Orders For Pig Iron, Expecting 1924 as Banner Year

By BRUCE SHORT
President Engineer Sales Corporation
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7—Prices of basic commodities have reached a level from which there has been little change in the last several weeks and which will probably remain stationary for some months to come. In other words, the lowest price level that may be expected for some time is now prevailing.

This condition reflected in the steel market has led big consumers to place their orders for pig iron. The American Radiator Company, one of the largest industrial users of pig iron, has placed its order for 50,000 tons for use during the first quarter of 1924. Other large concerns, which do not buy on a falling market, are obtaining quotations for their quarter and semi-annual orders with the probability that they will place the orders before the end of the year.

These transactions on the steel market are indicative of what is transpiring in other lines of business. Stocks in nearly all enterprises are depleted and must be replenished soon. There is little if any reserve stocks in any part of the U. S. and because of this fact observers of the steel market predict with confidence that prices will not go lower in the near future.

The necessity of placing orders and increasing the depleted stocks points a finger of prosperity toward the coming year. Merchants in all enterprises are still cautious. They do not intend to over-buy but now that the outlook for 1924 is assuming definite form, they are abandoning an attitude of hesitancy and coming into the open market with a feeling of confidence.

Railroad companies, constituting as a group one of the largest customers of the steel mills, are placing their orders for steel rails but on the other hand they are delaying their car orders until next month. This delay in ordering cars is due to a desire for lower prices, but indications are that the price of the cars will not go any lower.

stone, has been found. Both quartz and zircons are transparent crystals and are hard enough to cut glass, which leads some people to the conclusion that they are diamonds.

Pearls are sometimes found in fresh-water clams or mussels in Indiana streams. While a few such pearls are reported to have sold for more than $100, most of those found in the state are of little economic importance. The mussels are useful, however, in the manufacture of pearl buttons, and clam fishing is carried on in the Ohio, White, Wabash and other rivers. While button factories are located at Shoals and Petersburg.

Copy Men's Pleated Shirt

It happens every once in a while that women's fashions adapt some part of men's costume to their own use. That's what happened to the pleated shirt bosom as the sketches show. While it was part of a man's attire it hid shyly behind a vest. Now it shows its outline plainly.

NEW FACES ARE SEEN IN SENATE

Only Three Men Who Have Served More Than A Score Of Years Are Due To Appear In Picture

OTHER 93 ARE NEWCOMERS

Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Leader of Massachusetts, is Oldest Inhabitant of Senate

By FRASER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, December 7—For evidence that "the old order changeth," witness the Senate. A generation has wrought a complete change in that august body.

Only three men who have served more than a score of years are due to appear in the new senate picture. The other ninety-three senators would be regarded as newcomers under the old rule when constituencies let senators die in harness.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican leader of Massachusetts, is the oldest inhabitant of the Senate in point of service, with 30 years behind him. Senator Warren of Wyoming really got to the Senate first. He did a two-year hitch before his present term began in 1895. Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic

Only Slight Decrease in State's Production, Report Says

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7—Indiana's oil fields have shown only a slight decrease in production this year, Theodore M. Kingsbury, state natural gas inspector, said today.

"Last year, Indiana produced 1,087,000 barrels of crude oil," Kingsbury said. "So far this year, the monthly productions have about held their own."

About two-thirds of the oil comes from the southwestern part of the state, centering in Pike and Gibson counties, he said. The largest new well in the last two years was drilled on the farm of Tom O'Brien, in Randolph county. Initial production of 300 barrels a day was recorded at this well. Several others in this section made about 150 barrels a day.

nestor, did not come to the Senate until six years later.

With so many new faces, the Senate will present a vastly different picture. In the place of Knute Nelson, the old Viking, with his snowy chin whiskers, will be another product of Scandinavia—Magnus Johnson, the real dirt farmer who actually milks his own cows.

Two oldtimers who came in together in Texas and McCumber of North Dakota—went out together. The Texan, who had tottered with palsy for ten years, was defeated as a result of the big vote rolled up by an impeached governor of the Lone Star State, and Senator Mayfield, whose seat is under a cloud, won the Senator Royal race. McCumber, Copeland of New whose widely separated syllables style of oratory was long a Senate attraction, was defeated by Senator Frazier, who was recalled as Non-Partisan League governor of his state.

Death has taken Senator Dillingham of Vermont, whose youthful figure belied his 80 years. The nestor of the Senate, Senator Page, also of the Green Mountain State, a few months the senior of Dillingham, has

There are so many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran—the one great aid to humanity!

You will enjoy eating Kellogg's Bran because its nut-like flavor appeals to the taste. And, think what each mouthful is doing to drive constipation out of your system and to re-establish health! That's because it is ALL BRAN. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically made to relieve suffering humanity—IT WILL DO THAT AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Physicians recommend the regular use of Kellogg's Bran for mild or chronic cases and as a preventive. Bran, eaten each day and in proper quantity, sweeps, cleanses and purifies the alimentary tract.

Get away from pills and cathartics—Kellogg's Bran will give you permanent relief from constipation.

Do not confuse Kellogg's Bran with common bran. Kellogg's is cooked, krumbled and ready to serve. It can be used in the most delightful baking products without in any way reducing its regulatory value. Try raisin bread or muffins or griddle-cakes made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

Kellogg's Bran is nationally eaten for health's sake as a cereal—in winter time with hot milk. Others prefer it sprinkled over hot or cold cereals. Another way is to mix it with hot cereals just before serving. It can also be cooked with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran for each person; in chronic cases as much with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is sold by all grocers and is supplied in individual packages at first-class hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant!
